What is a high-risk driver?

High-Risk Car Insurance FAQs · https://midcolumbiainsurance.com/faq/what-is-a-high-risk-driver

Click To Watch Video

What is a high-risk driver?

Insurance companies classify someone as a high-risk driver when their driving record makes it more likely that they will have an accident and, therefore, more likely that they will file an insurance claim.

There are no universal rules for what it takes to be considered high-risk, but drivers can be deemed high-risk if they have had too many traffic violations or one or more major violations, such as a DUI or careless driving.

Do You Need High Risk Insurance?

Have you had your car insurance canceled or been denied insurance because you are considered a high-risk driver?

- Lots of tickets? No problem!
- 3 or 4 accidents? No problem!

- Driving without insurance? No problem!
- Need an SR22? No problem!

Dairyland, National General, Kemper Specialty, The General, and Bristol West are just some of the companies we represent that specialize in insuring high-risk drivers.

We will do everything we can to help you find affordable insurance, and as your tickets fall off, we will work with you to find cheaper rates.

Mid-Columbia Insurance – Your Trusted Insurance Agent

If you are considered a high-risk driver, call us today at 509-783-5600 or request a quote online at MidColumbiaInsurance.com.

More info: High-Risk Car Insurance