What Is The Purpose Of Automobile Liability Insurance?

Car Insurance FAQs · https://midcolumbiainsurance.com/faq/purpose-of-automobile-liability-insurance

Liability car insurance, also known as liability coverage, covers costs associated with any injury or damage you cause while driving or someone else causes while driving your vehicle. Your insurance company will pay for the injuries and damages you are responsible for up to the policy limits.

Although liability car insurance pays the other party, it really protects the car owner and driver as well as their families from possible financial ruin if they had to pay the judgment and all the legal fees required to defend one's self.

More: Car Insurance Information